

The Shining Star - Dreams Come True

Dear Readers,

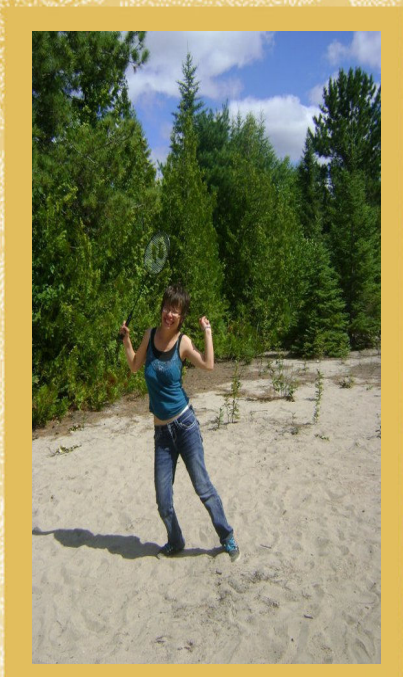

Hello everyone , the second volume will inspire you to continue to reach your goals and reach for your shooting star.

Dreams come true:

It doesn't matter what you dream of doing, it only encourages you to continue to follow your dreams and make them happen because you have the drive to keep your dreams alive. The dreams that you have will remain your own successes knowing that you put them to good use. The future will remain brighter for all of you as you continue to do what your heart desires.

My dreams are coming true as each day goes by. My dreams in sharing my experiences are the greatest gift I can offer because I am showing others that you can do what your heart desires ,because no matter the footsteps you have taken you are able to follow the path of your dreams. There is nothing that can change or erase your dreams.

You know how you have a blank canvas and you come up with this story, what I am trying to say is that by observing others I create my own works of art, by inspiring people to try and do the same. Each time you are enjoying your dreams I try to observe through your eyes, and it inspires me to continue to do what I do. My dream is coming true because I am living it to the fullest watching other dreams come true as well.

Second Chance for a new beginning:

A second chance allows you to start fresh and make your dreams go smoother knowing that you are creating new beginning for yourself. A fresh start is time to show everyone that you have great possibilities for yourself because you are trying new things and experiencing everything that the world is offering you as you continue living your life to the fullest because everyday is another day that you are alive and enjoying every second because you appreciate everything you have been given and the opportunities you have to fulfil your destiny.

Since I have been little , my second chance at new beginning has been an amazing journey. I have had many opportunities and continue to have many opportunities to grow through each precious moment. I am living proof that a second chance allows you to become fighters and achievers of opportunities to continue to grow and strengthen your life by inspire others to do the same. A second chance to show and be proud of what you have accomplished and are still accomplishing. My new beginning is only the beginning of wonderful things to come.

Believing is worth achieving

“The possibilities are always going to provide you with new exciting abilities with each new experience as you continue to make your way through life.”

Dreams Still Alive

Your dreams remain alive through the new opportunities you have by doing what you have a love for. Your successes allow you to share with others what you have learned throughout your life, so others can utilize what they are learning and make it their own accomplishments themselves. Their successes are a way for them to learn from failures and mistakes knowing that they have achieved success no matter what someone has said they couldn't do, they have accomplished things with great pride.

The dreams I still have for myself is to become someone people can look up to, knowing that I am making the world a better place, and knowing that with the experiences that I am sharing people can take what I have done and make it a reality for their lives to come.

Each dream I've had for myself I am living them to my advantage, so that I can look back one day and know that all my dreams have been fulfilled.

“Talented individuals like yourselves create opportunities for others because you are showing them that gifts come within everyone and that 's a true unique part of each person. Now that is truly a remarkable quality that everyone possesses.”

A life changing experience through everyone's eyes

Everyone has went through life long changes and continue to grow through life changes. Opportunities are being lived for and obstacles are allowing your accomplishments to help you grow.

Grow as you move forward and you know that the many things in your past have shown you a great deal and have shaped you to become the individual you are today. You are remaining true and proud of what you have achieved and that you continue to achieve new goals you have set for yourself.

I have come along way since 2005 when I was preparing for college and preparing for new experiences. Knowing that I have made goals in life to show those who may think I couldn't succeed that I have succeeded with strength within myself, knowing that I have done everything that I dreamed of doing, which was to make my family and myself proud of the many things I have achieved.

Making the most out of success

When each of you have achieved some success, making the best of it allows you too share what you have learned through your experiences. Knowing that someone learned from you that no matter what changes you faced, there is always something good has been achieved.

Success may not come easy but when you have obtained it it's the best feeling. You have learned so much and you are continuing to grow with each goal that you reach. The goals you reach teach those around you that anyone can achieve their own successes in their life.

My experience with success has taken me far beyond what others thought because I did exactly what they said I couldn't or wouldn't do. That means I put a shock on everyone's face by proving that all is possible regardless of what obstacles are set in front of me. I imagine myself fulfilling all my goals and dreams by empowering others to do the same. "All I can say is that the road looks bright for everyone including myself."

When no one thinks one can't do what their minds are set to, remember that only you, you yourself, knows what you are capable of doing and accomplishing what you have set your mind to.

The things you wish to do are a matter of doing them no matter what obstacles were put in front of you. You have the one thing no one can take from you, which is ability. As you can see your successes, make your possibilities endless. "your accomplishing everything, with each possibility."

A Star is born to fulfillment

I challenge you to recognize that that everyone is a star in their own beautiful way, whether it's through a talent given at birth or developed through the years, it is an opportunity to show what you are in fact good at. An experience is an opportunity to make everything a possibility to show and learn through challenges and great success because no matter what is given to you, you will always find a path in life, just follow the road that your heart in telling you to follow because your life is yours and yours alone to make your dreams come true. You are the star of your lifelong dreams.
